All vehicles must remain in the camp parking lot. Upon arrival (until 11 a.m. on Saturday), vehicles will be allowed to drive into campsites to unload gear. Cars must then be returned to the camp parking lot. Only one vehicle will be allowed in a campsite at a time. If several families are camping together, this will decrease the time you must wait to unload.

Summer Camp Tents WILL NOT BE AVAILABLE and you should come prepared to provide your own shelter.

All meals are on your own. Campfire rings are located in each group campsite. Please do not make new Campfire Rings. Adults may use personal camp stoves for cooking - BSA policy on the use of fuels must be followed.

Helpful Camping Hints

Tents

If you use a plastic tarp under your tent, make sure you fold all the edges under the tent. That prevents any rain from catching in the edges and running under your tent.

Don't store food in your tent. It attracts all kinds of unwelcome pests.

Never use fire in tents.

Hanging a similar sized plastic tarp over your tent can act as both shade and extra rain protection.

When you get home, put your tent up and allow it to dry and air out before packing it away till the next time. This helps prevent mildew and musty odors.

NEVER USE CAMPSTOVES OR COMBUSTION HEATERS IN TENTS! This dangerous practice could be fatal!

Cooking

If the ground is wet, laying some aluminum foil on the ground before you lay your burning materials makes fire starting a lot easier.

Dutch oven cooking is great! However, if you've never done it before, an event with a planned schedule may not be the best time to try it out for the first time. You can't always depend on cook times.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that camping means you have to eat foods you'd never eat otherwise. Plan your meals around foods that are familiar, uncomplicated, and enjoyable.

It's best not to plan a big cooking production for breakfast and lunch at events with day schedules, especially if your cooking crew is inexperienced. Keep your menus simple, easy to prepare and clean up, leaving you plenty of time to get to flag ceremonies, games, and other activities.

Avoid candy and sugary snacks and drinks. They are empty calories and promote dehydration.

Snacks like fresh or dried fruit, pop tarts, sandwich crackers, and fish crackers all work well. Water is the best thing to drink from a health standpoint, and it's cheap!

Always be aware of food allergies and special dietary needs of the members of your unit.

Personal Tips

Don't stay up all night! Don't let the kids stay up all night! Camping is more fun if you're well-rested.

Use that personal water bottle! Don't just carry it.. drink it!

Use that flashlight! There is nothing cool about going home with a sprained ankle or other injury.

Look at weather predictions and plan your clothing for the weather, but always bring some cool weather and rain gear –weather men have been known to be wrong.

Camping is a great activity! If you are prepared fairly well, take care of simple personal acts like eating well, resting, and drinking plenty of water, and participate in the event activities, your Family Camping experience can be a blast!
